

MFL	Production Speaking:	Comprehension: Listening, reading and translation into English	Production Writing and translation into the target language	Grammar and accuracy
Beginning	I mainly use my notes for help and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">remember single words, short phrases and questionsuse understandable pronunciation. + <ul style="list-style-type: none">use 1-3 simple sentences, using familiar pre-learned language on one topic.express simple likes and dislikes.use some adjectives.	I mainly use my notes for help and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">recognise cognates and a few familiar words and phrases + <ul style="list-style-type: none">recognise simple opinionstranslate 3 to 4 short simple sentences	I mainly use my notes for help and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">write some single words with plausible spelling.substitute one element in a simple phrase to vary the meaningtranslate single words. + <ul style="list-style-type: none">write words and 1-2 phrases with understandable spelling.express simple likes and dislikes.use some adjectives and substitute two or three elements in simple sentences to vary meaning.translate 1 or 2 short sentences	I mainly use my notes for help and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">understand that nouns can be M/F/N singular or plural.choose the correct (in)definite articleuse nominative and accusative after ich habe / es gibt (Ger)use simple high frequency verb forms to talk about self. + <ul style="list-style-type: none">form regular plurals of nouns with helpuse 1-2 simple adjectives after a verb with supportuse simple negatives for regular verbs I may make quite a few mistakes
Developing	I regularly use my notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">produce 3-4 sentences of familiar language.talk about myself and others and ask a question (singular only).express likes and dislikes in several waysgive reasons using simple connectives. + <ul style="list-style-type: none">insert new words into familiar sentences to vary my language	I regularly use my notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">use my knowledge of familiar words, phrases and simple verb forms to pick out the main points of a short passagerecognise reasons for opinionstranslate 5 to 6 short sentences.	I regularly use my notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">write words and 3-4 simple sentences with understandable spelling.write about myself and others (singular only)express likes and dislikes and give reasons using simple connectives.write a longer text following a model or writing frame.translate 2-3 short sentences. + <ul style="list-style-type: none">write about myself and others (singular only) using 2-3 different verbs.vary how I express likes and dislikesuse different connectives to give reasons.translate 3-4 short sentences	I regularly use my notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">use simple adjectives to describe nouns with correct word orderunderstand how to form singular endings of regular verbsform simple verb questions.vary word order with time phrases (verb = 2nd idea) (Ger)use prepositions of place + dative (Ger) + <ul style="list-style-type: none">form singular endings of regular verbs.use a range of questions words with an understanding of word order.use simple adjectives correctly (Fre / Span) I may make mistakes
Secure	I occasionally use notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">talk about myself and others in a conversation scenario (singular and plural) and ask questions.Where appropriate, use different tenses to talk about myself (one or two examples).change the language we have learnt to give my own answers. + <ul style="list-style-type: none">use more complex language in my answers (modal verbs, comparatives, superlatives)	I occasionally use notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">pick out the details in a short passage of simple sentences with mostly familiar language.use a dictionary to look up new wordsrecognise different tenses to say when things happen + <ul style="list-style-type: none">translate a short paragraph.	I occasionally use notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">write at least one paragraph about myself and others using 3-6 different verbs. (singular and plural)use a dictionary to look up new nouns and adjectives.where appropriate, use different tenses to write about myself (one or two examples).translate a short paragraph.	I occasionally use notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">recall at least 3-6 different regular verbs and form present tense forms singular and pluralrecall high frequency irregular and modal verbs present tense forms (eg to have, to go, to make, to be able to etc)form different tenses correctly where appropriate + <ul style="list-style-type: none">form longer sentences with main clause and sub clause with mainly correct word orderuse comparative and/or superlative forms There may be some mistakes.
Confident	I occasionally use my notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">take part in conversations using examples of complex language.ask and answer a range of questions though with some hesitation.use different tenses to talk about others as well as myself where appropriate. + <ul style="list-style-type: none">successfully change the language we have learnt to give my own answers	I occasionally use my notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">understand all familiar language in detailuse context and my knowledge of language to work out the meaning of new words.recognise different tenses to say when things happentranslate a longer paragraph of familiar language	I occasionally use my notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">write more than 1 paragraph from memory.write about myself and others (singular and plural) using at least 7 different verbs.use a dictionary to look up new nouns, adjectives and some verbswhere appropriate, use more than one tense appropriate to the task to write about others as well as myself.translate a longer paragraph. + <ul style="list-style-type: none">add interest by using a range of more complex structures and a variety of vocabulary and verbs.Write with little repetition	I occasionally use my notes and can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">where appropriate, form the different tenses correctly from memory using regular and key irregular verbs.look up a new verb and work out how to use it correctly in a sentencelink ideas using simple conjunctions with correct word order. There are few errors. The work is more correct than incorrect.
Exceptional	I can with very little support: <ul style="list-style-type: none">take part in a conversation on familiar topicsCope with an unexpected questionask a question with little hesitation.speak confidently and adapt language we have learnt to suit new situations.	I can with very little support: <ul style="list-style-type: none">understand in detail a more complex passage containing unpredictable elements, time frames, a range of structures and topics I have studied.translate a paragraph into natural English.	I can with very little support: <ul style="list-style-type: none">write a coherent passage from memory using a range of more complex structures.confidently use a dictionary to look up nouns, adjectives and verbstranslate a paragraph drawn from more than one topic.Talk about myself and othersUse a variety of tenses appropriate to the task	I can with very little support: <ul style="list-style-type: none">use an example to work out grammar patterns for myself and apply them.add variety and interest with a range of structuresuse a range of conjunctions to link ideas with correct word order.avoid repetition. There may still be some errors.
Beyond	I can with no support: <ul style="list-style-type: none">respond to questions spontaneously on familiar topicsengage in a conversation for around 2 minutes and ask more than 1 questionrespond to an unexpected question on a familiar topic, or adapt language top respond to a question on an unfamiliar topic I may still make mistakes	I can with no support: <ul style="list-style-type: none">understand in detail a complex passage on a familiar topicUse deduction /prediction/context to work out unfamiliar languageUse a dictionary appropriately for comprehension purposesTranslate into good English a paragraph on a familiar topic with some unfamiliar language I may still make mistakes	I can with no support: <ul style="list-style-type: none">Write a longer coherent passage without notes in which I may:<ul style="list-style-type: none">link my ideas using appropriate conjunctionstalk about myself and othersuse a range of tenses appropriate to the taskadapt known and recycled languageshow little repetitionattempt more complex languagetranslate a short paragraph into target language drawn from different topicsuse a dictionary to look up a new word and use it appropriately + <ul style="list-style-type: none">I may still make mistakes when using more complex language	I can with no support : <ul style="list-style-type: none">Recognise and use language appropriatelyDemonstrate high accuracy in recall of known vocabularyUse tenses correctlyProduce work mainly free from major errors which impede communication, though I may still make mistakes in more complex language There may still be errors in the more ambitious language.